

BELGRAVIA GALLERY

Belgravia Residents Journal

January 2013

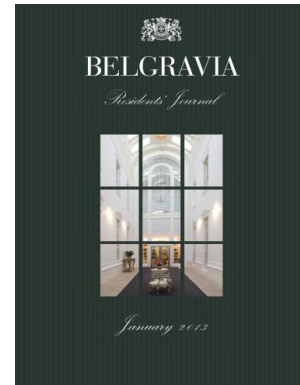

BY

Charlotte Newman

Mandela's other side

Though technically not in Belgravia, we're pleased that this gallery bears the area's name as it is holding a fabulous winter exhibition. Featuring new work from Belgravia Gallery artists like Charlie Calder-Potts, Charlie Mackesy, Garry Raymond-Pereira and Nikki Taylor as well as pieces by Nelson Mandela, this exhibition is varied but perfectly seasonal, featuring paintings and sketches of an ethereal quality that manage to convey both warmth and iciness, isolation and belonging.

Sculptures in bronze by Bettina Seitz and Ben Dearnley provide solidity. Highlights include Pereira's strikingly unusual landscapes painted on Scottish slate and Nikki Taylor's gauzy anatomicals crafted from stainless steel mesh. This wonderful exhibition closes on 11 January, so catch it before it goes.

Belgravia, Residents Journal, January 2013 Issue

Mandela's other side

Though technically not in Belgravia, we're pleased that this gallery bears the area's name as it is holding a fabulous winter exhibition. Featuring new work from Belgravia Gallery artists like Charlie Calder-Potts, Charlie Mackesy, Garry Raymond-Pereira and Nikki Taylor as well as pieces by Nelson Mandela, this exhibition is varied but perfectly seasonal, featuring paintings and sketches of an ethereal quality that manage to convey both warmth and iciness, isolation and belonging. Sculptures in bronze by Bettina Seitz and Ben Dearnley provide solidity. Highlights include Pereira's strikingly unusual landscapes painted on Scottish slate and Nikki Taylor's gauzy anatomicals crafted from stainless steel mesh. This wonderful exhibition closes on 11 January, so catch it before it goes.

Belgravia Gallery: 41 Albemarle Street, 020 7495 1010

Photo: Nicola Newman

Excerpt from Residents journal, Art Focus, page 15

45 Albemarle Street
London W1S 4JL

Tel: 020 7495 1010
Fax: 020 7629 1247
www.belgraviagallery.com